

Fears Mount For Missing Rights Trio

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Fear mounted today among searchers that the three missing civil rights workers may not be found alive.

"It is hard to believe that three people could be just swallowed up without somebody hearing or seeing something," said Grady Gilmore, public relations director of the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

The trio was last seen Sunday night. The charred hulk of the station wagon they used was found by FBI agents in a swampy area near a lonely road late Tuesday.

Allen Dulles, sent to Mississippi to gather information for the White House on the missing workers, conferred at Jackson with Gov. Paul B. Johnson.

Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency, said he did not plan to come here. He told newsmen that President Johnson asked him to "come down here and talk with Gov. Johnson and get first hand his view of the problems here on law enforcement."

Governor Praises Dulles

The governor praised Dulles, saying "men like him are here for the purpose of doing good. He has a carte blanche anywhere in Mississippi."

The civil rights workers—Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andy Goodman, 20, both of New York and James Chaney, 22, a Negro from Meridian—were last seen Sunday night when Chaney paid a $20 fine for speeding.

They were in the Philadelphia area in central Mississippi to check into the burning of a Negro church used for civil rights rallies.

FBI agents joined in the search for the trio on Tuesday.

The Highway Patrol said more than 200 persons were questioned during a house-to-house probe Wednesday that was halted by rain and darkness.

Art Richardson, a patrol spokesman, said officers would fan out on foot today from Philadelphia to comb the entire county for clues.

Another patrol spokesman said the attempt by Negro comedian Dick Gregory and three Negro integration leaders to enter the search area delayed operations Wednesday.

Later, Gregory offered $25,000 in borrowed money as a reward for the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the disappearance of the three workers. Gregory said he borrowed the money from a Chicago magazine publisher.

In Washington, some 2,000 delegates to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People convention marched around the Justice Department building in silent protest over the disappearance of the trio.

Man Held On 4 Charges In Burglary

The second man implicated in the attempted burglary of the Resbeck Food Market in Woodsfield, along with Oliver Henry of Salem, has been identified as Boleslaus F. Chmielewski, 44, of Cleveland by Monroe County Sheriff Roy Sulsberger.

Chmielewski and Henry, a parolee, were caught early Friday by the sheriff and night marshal Roy Eddy as they attempted to flee from the market. A gun battle flared and Henry was wounded in the arms and chest. He was taken to Barnesville Hospital where his condition is said to be satisfactory. He has not been arraigned.

Chmielewski, after several days of questioning, refused to identify himself until confronted with his past criminal record by Sheriff Sulsberger. Records show that Chmielewski served a one to 15-year term in San

Johnson Loses Round One

Medicare Shelved By House Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's chances of getting his medical care program now hinge on the Senate—and perhaps on his ability to persuade key House members later.

The President lost round one Wednesday when the House Ways and Means Committee shelved the Social Security health program.

The committee, however, did vote for a 5 per cent increase in cash payments to Social Security retirees.

If Congress acts promptly, passing the bill in July, the October pension checks could reflect the increase.

Security 'Wall' Annoys Nikita

Swedish Authorities 'Taking No Chances'

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Premier Khrushchev is getting restless and annoyed over the colossal security wall the Swedish police have put around him. With thousands of patrolmen bristling with sabers and pistols, and hundreds of detectives in every guise from cook to charwoman, Stockholm has been like an armed camp since the Soviet leader arrived three days ago.

A Soviet source said Khrushchev is beginning to resent the massive security curtain keeping him from contact with the Swedish people.

His impatience was demonstrated during a visit to the shipbuilding center of Goteborg Wednesday. When a policeman thrust out an arm to guide him along his route, Khrushchev struck down the arm and gave him a black look.

No unauthorized person is allowed anywhere near the man from the Kremlin, and even accredited officials are sometimes turned away. Five thousand policemen and two companies of army commandos are everywhere—holding up traffic, blocking sidewalks, peering from rooftops, searching passersby, fusing through kitchens.

Expressen, Scandinavia's biggest newspaper, complained on Khrushchev's behalf: "We are astonished at all these police, and so must Khrushchev be. In the United States he traveled in an open car, as he did in

American Mission In S. Viet Nam Ordered 'Beefed Up' By LBJ

Johnson Feels Time Now for 'Major Effort'

President Sending 'Big Names' to Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has passed the word to aides that along with the assignment of his new top command team to South Viet Nam, he wants the whole U.S. mission in Saigon beefed up as much as possible.

In taking a new look at the Southeast Asian crisis because of the resignation of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Johnson is said to have determined that the time has come for the United States to make a major effort, as some officials phrase it, "to turn the war around."

Now Showing Results

Some top authorities believe the firm leadership of South Vietnamese president, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, is beginning to show results, that improved U.S. techniques in training South Vietnamese forces is also showing results and that the ill effects in disorder and damaged morale of the political upheavals of last fall and winter are beginning to be overcome.

President Johnson, it is understood, had expected that Lodge, the kingpin of the U.S. organization and effort in South Viet Nam, would remain on the job until August. But Lodge decided for what he has called purely personal reasons that he had to leave almost at once. He said he wanted to help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in his effort to win the GOP presidential nomination. Johnson announced Tuesday the acceptance of the resignation which Lodge submitted last Friday.

Viet Gets Top Brass

At the same time, and according to a principle that had previously been adopted that there should be no gap between Lodge and his successor, Johnson announced an unprecedented combination of talents and experience would be sent into the U.S. Embassy at Saigon—with Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, leaving the chairmanship of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to become ambassador, and Deputy Undersecretary of State U. Alexis Johnson to become deputy am-

Columbiana Plant Plans Expansion

COLUMBIANA — A new $500,000 plant will be built by the Franklin Furniture Co., according to a recent announcement by Walter Hartsock, company president.

Location of the plant, which is to be under construction by September, has not been definitely decided, although company officials are negotiating to obtain a 12-acre tract of land on the Columbiana - Leetonia Rd., next to Ballantriff Metals Products.

The decision to build the proposed 75,000-square foot plant is based on the large volume of business being done by the company and the inadequacy of the present structure to allow expansion.

Plans for the new building reveal that it would be a one-story structure, housing all phases of the manufacturing process. The present plant, located on Railroad St., contains three floors.

One hundred and thirty-eight persons are presently employed

Health Peril Tags On Cigarettes Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and federal court suits are the two likely obstacles to implementation of a new Federal Trade Commission rule requiring the tobacco industry to label cigarettes as health hazards.

The extent of the delay may be detailed today when representatives of the tobacco industry testify before the House Commerce Committee.

Paul Rand Dixon, chairman of the FTC, told the committee he hopes the industry will comply voluntarily, but he added: "They can take this rule to the nearest court and ask for a review. I'm satisfied this will happen."

Later, Sen. B. Everett Jordan, a Democrat from tobacco-producing North Carolina, said: "I have been in touch with leaders and representatives of growers, warehousemen and manufacturers and these groups have already agreed to take the matter to the courts immediately."

And Albert G. Clay, president of the Burley Auction Warehouse Association, questioned the commission's authority to enforce the ruling. He said he thinks the manufacturers will take steps immediately to challenge the rule.

7 Soldiers Killed In Plane Crash

RIDGEWAY, S.C. (AP)—Seven soldiers from Ft. Benning, Ga., were killed and 24 injured when an Army transport plane crashed on takeoff from a temporary airstrip northeast of Ridgeway about midnight Wednesday.

Maj. Paul Timm of the Ft. Jackson Public Information Office said five occupants of the plane were killed. The other 15 occupants were injured.

Timm said two other soldiers on the ground in the vicinity of the crash site were also killed. Nine soldiers on the ground were injured.

The cause of the crash was not immediately known. Names of the casualties were withheld pending notification of kin.

The injured survivors were removed by helicopter and taken to the U.S. Army Hospital at Ft. Jackson. The crashed plane was attached to the 10th Air Transport Brigade of the 11th Air Assault Division, Ft. Benning.

Salem Women Hurt In Mishap

A Salem woman, her aged mother and an Alliance motorist were hurt in a two-car collision Wednesday at 11:50 a. m. at the intersection of Seneca and Oxford Sts. in Alliance.

Mrs. Venus Bower, 65, of 418 W. State St. was treated at Alliance City Hospital for abrasion and contusions of both arms, and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Sanor, 91, same address, for lacerations of the lip.

The driver of the other car, Donald Hons, 34, of 1055 Ridgeway Ave., Alliance, suffered a left knee injury. All were released after treatment.

Alliance police cited Mrs. Bower for a stop sign violation. They said she was traveling south on Seneca when she struck broadside Hons' auto heading west on Oxford St.

Stress, Not Smoking, Tied To Heart Ills

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A New York heart specialist, reporting on a survey of 12,000 professional persons, said today that job stress is closely linked to coronary heart disease—but smoking may not be.

The survey covered 14 occupational groups with "obvious differences" in job tensions, said Dr. Henry I. Russek, consultant in cardiovascular disease, U.S. Public Health Service hospital, Staten Island.

Dr. Russek listed those surveyed in order of decreasing stress: General medical practitioners, anesthesiologists, pathologists, dermatologists, general dental practitioners, oral surgeons, orthodontists and periodontists, general law practitioners, trial lawyers, lawyers in various specialties and patent lawyers.

In addition, he said, security analysts and security traders on the New York Stock Exchange were compared.

Persons who said they never had smoked showed significantly higher coronary heart disease rates than those who stopped smoking before their attack or before the time of the questionnaire if there was no attack, Dr. Russek reported at the annual convention of the American Medical Association.

"These findings cast doubt upon the alleged role of smoking in the genesis of coronary heart disease," he said.

Dr. Russek's report followed a statement by the AMA's House of Delegates saying that the AMA recognizes "a significant relationship between cigarette smoking and the incidence of lung cancer and certain other diseases, and that cigarette smoking is a serious health hazard." But it didn't mention heart disease specifically.

Domination Isn't the Issue

If Ohio takes its cue from the U.S. Supreme Court and reshuffles the seats in its House of Representatives, it will have only one valid reason for doing so: To equalize, as nearly as possible, the number of people each legislator represents.

Underlying the move for reapportionment, however, is an invalid and emotional contention that Ohio's House is controlled by a hard core of country bumpkins bent on throttling city legislation.

That claim is a hangover from an Ohio of yesterday and ignores the facts of modern-day lawmaking. The notion that farmers are riding herd on the city folk is as outdated as the horse-drawn trolley.

BECAUSE Ohio's Hanna amendment gives each county one representative regardless of population, statisticians have been able to show that less than 30 percent of the state's population controls more than 50 percent of the seats in the House.

"Control" is the catch word in the arguments of the Hanna amendment critics. It leaves the implication that a relative handful of rural Ohioans is imposing its influence on the entire state.

In fact, however, the Ohio Legislature has shown no overwhelming coloration of rural or urban in the laws enacted in recent years.

Special interest legislation — bills prompted by situations peculiar to a single county or small portion of the state — is evident in every legislative session. But if you took time to leaf through the nearly 1,000 House bills introduced in 1963, you'd find at least as many of the special issues in the rural sections.

The closest the House came to a rural-urban showdown in 1963 was on a bill calling for a gasoline tax refund to benefit mass transit companies. And, as it turned out, it wasn't even close.

Although there was strong opposition from small counties which did not operate transit companies, the bill passed the House 88-42. The roll call showed rural and urban legislators on both sides of the issue.

And that is typical today. Except for policy bills and others that bring politics to the fore, legislators are, for the most part, doing just what their constituents elect them to do — they're voting on the merits of the legislation.

IT MIGHT be noted Congress has had a sharp division of rural and urban representation, too. But just because a congressman is from Iowa doesn't mean he's numb to anything outside the corn-belt sphere of operation.

There is a disparity, and a big one, in the way Ohio's House of Representatives is apportioned if the Supreme Court's "one man-one vote" ruling is to be the guideline.

But let's hear no more talk about that shadowy "Cornstalk Brigade." The brigade had its day in Ohio, but hasn't held muster for more than a decade and appears to exist now in reputation only.

Regardless of conditions these days, they are bound to become "the good old days" in the distant future.

Dinosaur Mystery By Joseph R. Hixson

For scientists, a dinosaur in the Arctic can be as bad as a bull in a china shop. He may knock over shelves loaded with cherished convictions, start heated arguments, and arouse incredulity among those who hear of the event second hand.

The 30-inch footprints of a dinosaur found on the Arctic island of Spitsbergen in 1960 are still rolling the geological pond, according to Dr. Edwin H. Gilbert, curator and head of vertebrate paleontology at the American Museum of Natural History at New York.

The problem is simply stated but not easily answered. If there were dinosaurs half-way between the northern tip of Norway and the North Pole 120 million years ago was the whole earth warmer or dinosaurs, like modern reptiles, don't keep a constant artificial temperature as mammals and birds do. Their temperatures fluctuate with that of the surrounding air. Sub-zero temperatures would freeze them into gigantic pieces of ice, and they were far too big to burrow into the ground for shelter.

All of this, says Dr. Colbert, leads to the assumption that Arctic temperatures 120 million years ago must have been similar to those of the tropics today.

But such temperatures immediately eliminate the polar ice caps, and indicates that almost uniform temperatures prevailed on earth since the Cretaceous dinosaurs have been found in such diverse areas of the globe.

There is, of course, another explanation. If, as some geologists believe, the land masses on earth have been shifting their positions, carried slowly along on eddies of the fluid lower crust and mantle, then Spitsbergen Island might once have been near the equator and simply migrated north over the millennia.

The wanderings of the continents, though, are not as random as all that. The observations on which the wandering-continent theory is based show the land masses moving east and west along their latitudes, but not north and south to any marked degree.

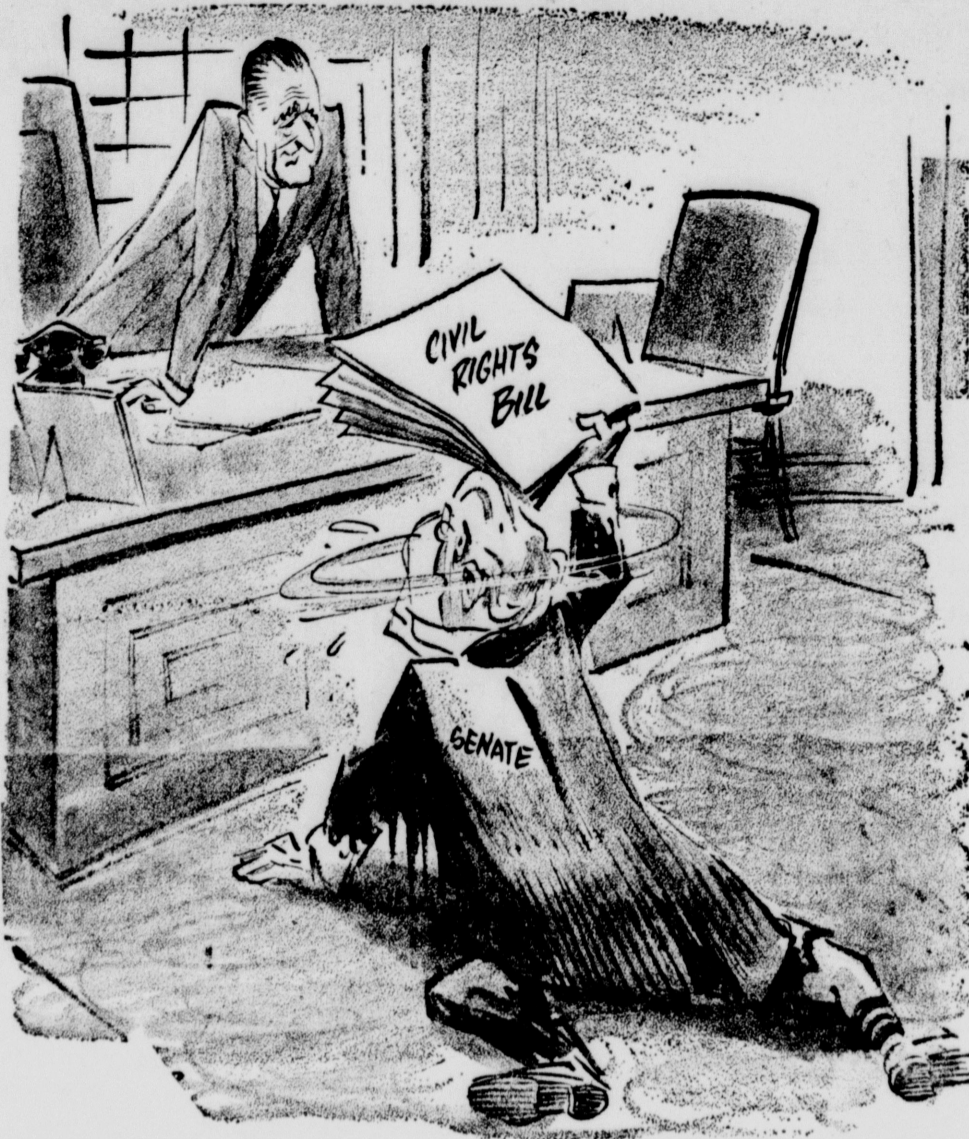

Thus, it is nearly impossible for the geologists to concede that Spitsbergen was once near the equator.

Even some theories that the magnetic—hence the earth's axis—poles have changed over the eons doesn't help to explain Iguanodon's unexpected presence in the Arctic. If the North Pole had once been in northern Siberia or near the tip of Alaska, Dr. Colbert says that Spitsbergen would still have been at 50 to 60 degrees north latitude.

So Iguanodon, first identified by an eccentric British doctor in 1825, has gradually extended his range, his fossil tracks found in one place, then another. And as he extended his range, that torrid area of 120-million-year-old earth grew and grew.

That warm globe so long ago leaves the geologists, astronomers and physicists with vast new areas for speculation.

"Anything Else I Can Do for You?"

Bridges to the Rescue

By VICTOR RIESEL

Racing furiously to the rescue of Jimmy Hoffa is none other than Harry Bridges, champion, also, of Communist China, veteran devotee of the Soviet collaborator in past years with powerful international Stalinists.

Bridges, who is president of the Pacific Coast Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, (ILWU) flew into New York last week to whip up sentiment and money for his close friend and ally on the labor front, the embattled Hoffa, who is desperately attempting to raise hundreds of thousands of dollars for his legal defense against criminal charges.

Bridges, an old hand at fund raising, made his headquarters at the Hotel Abbey in crowded mid-town. From his room there he could — and did — foray into town unnoticed to confer with labor leaders.

THIS WAS a labor of love for Bridges, who rarely comes East from his home city of San Francisco. His mission was twofold — to raise money for the Teamsters' chief and to win the support of Eastern union leaders for a new National Citizens Defense Committee for Hoffa, with whose union the Western longshoremen have a mutual assistance pact.

In some of the confidential talks Bridges disclosed that his union has been pounding at President Johnson to pressure the Justice Department to ease up on Hoffa.

West Coast dockers' units have been wiring the President for weeks now. Under Bridges guidance the theme of these protests is that Hoffa is being "framed" by the Justice Department in its effort to smash the Teamsters' Brotherhood.

Bridges defense of Hoffa is the bluntest, toughest, most outspoken rallying to the high-tension Teamsters' leader outside the truck drivers' organization itself.

THE AFFINITY for Hoffa intrigues many insiders. In recent years Bridges has taken considerable time out from his union activity to push militantly left-wing causes. Much of his energy goes into the fight for the recognition of and the resumption of trade with Communist China.

A swift measure of his international ideological position is his description of Formosa, which the Pentagon now relies on as a vital Asian outpost, as a "rat hole." He refers to the Peking government as the Peoples' Republic of China.

Bridges is constantly whipping up letters and wires and promoting visits of his associates to Washington to lobby for such recognition. Relentlessly he urges his followers to pressure President Johnson into dispatching committees to Peking to pave the way for such an accord.

On South Viet Nam his agitation is just as strenuous and consistent. He demands the immediate pull-out of U.S. troops from that besieged country and argues for the neutralization of all of Southeast Asia.

OF COURSE, Jim Hoffa is aware of all this. Yet this intimate knowledge of Bridges' foreign policy position did not deter the Teamster from making his brotherhood and the Pacific Coast Longshoremen official allies.

Though Bridges and his union are not as well known to today's generation as they were two and three decades ago, Hoffa knows that the Western Longshoremen were ousted from the ranks of the old CIO for paralleling the pro-Communist line back in the '40s.

What, then, brings these men together? Insiders believe that if Hoffa is cleared of the charges in the current Chicago trial and if his jury-tampering conviction is reversed, he and Bridges will launch a new labor federation. It will be built around a transportation network made up of hundreds of thousands of Teamsters and the dockwallowing and warehouse units of Bridges' union, which reaches along the West Coast to Alaska and across to Hawaii, where it is now a powerful political force.

THEN THE TWO hope to link their federation with waterfront forces in the East. Fact is that last week Bridges took time out of his Hoffa defense drive to feel out New York labor officials. What he accomplished is still his secret.

But it's certain that Bridges and Hoffa are linked together in a stratagem for a national push on the labor front. All they need is to keep Hoffa out of prison. And Harry Bridges sure is trying.

The Enemy Within

By BEVERLY DEEPE

SAIGON In a small hamlet not far from the 17th Parallel and North Viet Nam, a Roman Catholic priest explained to a Western visitor: "A year ago we used to denounce every Communist tax collector that came near our village. Now we have to talk to their secret agents."

In South Viet Nam's quiet northern province of Quang Tri, peasants were told to elect councils in the 400 strategic hamlets the government had established. American policy makers presumed these elections would provide democracy at the grass roots level and entice the villagers to support the government. But in 100 of the 400 hamlets, Viet Cong agents were elected as hamlet chiefs. The Communists have up to 15 agents in each of South Viet Nam's 2,000-plus villages which are clusters of hamlets, up to 40 in each of 250 districts and up to 400 in each of 43 provincial capitals.

THESE AGENTS, mostly operating in their native areas, are distinct from other left-wing sympathizers making up the National Liberation Front of South Viet Nam, and from the armed Viet Cong guerrillas who terrorize, propagandize and attack government positions.

"Political subversion is a key element in any Communist insurgency apparatus," a high-ranking U.S. officer explained. "In Communist party tactics, if they have to cell in a hamlet today, they'll get one there tomorrow — or else try to."

More than 200 secret cells are believed to operate in small, prosperous Gia Dinh province, which takes in the suburbs of Saigon.

An unknown number presumably operate in Saigon itself, where almost every businessman — from small shopkeepers to factory owners — regularly pay taxes to go-beetweens working for the Viet Cong.

No commercial group is left untouched — including Vietnamese generals who pay taxes for their rice land or rubber plantations in the provinces. French plantation owners are regular contributors; even some U.S. installations in the provinces have been constructed by indirectly paying taxes to the Viet Cong.

Vietnamese construction firms doing American contract work pay the taxes — to make sure the buildings are not blown up before they are completed.

The taxes become an additional cost to be paid by the U.S. government. Viet Cong coolies are often used for the construction work.

Vietnamese workers for American-owned firms regularly pay taxes to the Viet Cong — notably truck drivers going through Communist-held areas to supply fuel for American jeeps and helicopters in the provinces.

sympathizers happily assist the Viet Cong in black-market trading or smuggling for profit. Drug store clerks sell them unlimited quantities of medicines. Many of the Viet Cong supplies are brought to South Viet Nam by Chinese businessmen living in Cambodia.

In the last three years, in Cambodia, for example, the tonnage of potassium chloride — used in manufacturing matches — increased 100 per cent, but Cambodian match production increased only one per cent. The remainder was shipped via Chinese businessmen to South Viet Nam, where the Viet Cong used it to produce gunpowder, munitions and mines.

Another important area is the black-market trading of South Vietnamese piastres. In 1963 Hanoi agents in Hong Kong bought up 20 million piastres ($300,000) a month and then smuggled them into South Viet Nam to pay their local bills.

"In a guerrilla situation, it is only normal that everyone pays taxes to the Viet Cong," a high-ranking Vietnamese officer explained. "Those that don't get their shops blown up."

It has long been assumed that the Viet Cong held much of the countryside while the government held the urban centers. But now, Vietnamese officers concede, "the Viet Cong are in the towns, too, but we just don't see them. They're invisible there."

1 Person, 1 Vote

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Maybe if the ruling by the Supreme Court of the United States—providing for "one person, one vote"—is applied to the federal government, the Senate of the United States some day may be composed of 624 senators. The Supreme Court says that population must be the basis for the apportionment of state legislatures, but defends the present imbalance in the national Congress as "traditional." Yet traditions aren't always maintained and the Supreme Court in many decisions has frequently taken the liberty of adjusting them to "the spirit of the times."

Applying the concept of "one person, one vote" it would be relatively easy for the Supreme Court to rewrite Article I of the Constitution, which provides for two senators for each state. The language could be interpreted by the high court to mean that, while the constitution intended each state to have no less than two senators, this doesn't prevent a state from having more senators, especially if population is taken as the yardstick.

Under the 1960 census, there is an average of about 300,000 population in the four least populous states—Alaska, Vermont, Wyoming and Nevada. If one additional senator is granted in all the other states for every 300,000 of population above the initial 300,000, there would be a total of 624 senators.

A simple majority of the Senate would then be controlled by 313 votes, which could come from only 10 states—namely, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Nevada, Texas, California and Pennsylvania. A two-thirds vote of a Senate made up in this way could be obtained by the votes of only 18 states.

The principle back of such an imbalance is recognized by the Supreme Court in its recent ruling on how the districts in the various state legislatures shall be composed.

The court's theory is that population was the only basis on which the representative system was inaugurated. It's difficult to see, however, how the Supreme Court can continue to apply the rule to state legislatures without some day feeling obliged to do the same with respect to Congress.

The court has relied on the doctrine that citizens must have "equal protection of the laws," and that the apportionment must be on the basis of the actual number of voters so that the formula of "one person, one vote" is made effective.

The court went on to say, in connection with state apportionments, that it could "perceive no constitutional difference, with respect to the geographical distribution of state legislative representation."

It added that the concept of a two-house system is not rendered meaningless because population is used as the predominant basis of representation. The court added:

"Different constituencies can be represented in the two houses. One body could be composed of single-member districts while the other could have at least some multimember districts."

This suggestion could just as readily be applied to Congress. The House could continue to have more members and the Senate could be composed of either 624 members or even more, depending upon what basic unit of population would be considered adequate for each state.

The whole emphasis in the latest Supreme Court ruling is on numbers. If a state, for example, attempted to limit the number of voters on the basis of intelligence qualifications, the argument would be raised that this is a form of discrimination. Nowhere in the recent Supreme Court opinion is there any recognition of the fact that, although the population has grown, his doesn't necessarily mean that the number of citizens with sufficient knowledge to vote intelligently on public questions has been correspondingly increased.

Members of Congress are beginning to hear from back home murmurs of real discontent over the recent Supreme Court decisions which dictate to the states of the Union how they shall apportion representation in both houses of their respective state legislatures.

Apparently people in the farm and rural sections are afraid that domination by the cities may prove injurious to their properties and that legislation beneficial to them which has hitherto been passed by the states will be discarded if the state legislatures are entirely rebuilt with another system of representation. It's feared also that the country will be governed by the political machines of a few big cities.

Sen. Dirksen, Republican leader, has already said publicly that a constitutional amendment may be necessary to clarify the limits of the Supreme Court's ruling.

Kennedy Halves

WASHINGTON — Visitors to the United States Treasury are permitted to buy only one John F. Kennedy half-dollar per person, but the hard-to-get coins still turn up on sale in stores in such things as key rings.

If the public can't get the Kennedy half-dollars, how do the jewelry manufacturers get them?

"That, my friend, is a trade secret," said a New York costume jewelry maker who wouldn't even confirm that he sells such key rings, although one wholesaler said he did.

A TREASURY official said he had "no idea" where or how the jewelry people get the coins. "When we first shipped the Kennedy half-dollars," he said, "the Federal Reserve banks asked the member banks not to ask the member banks not to sell them in large quantities to dealers and collectors."

"But almost the next day," he added, "advertisements appeared in the newspapers with the Kennedy halves in key rings and the like."

Few of the Kennedy half-dollars are in general circulation, although the Treasury is turning them out in great numbers. The original plan was to mint 90 million of the coins this year. Through May, the U.S. Mint had reached the 75 million mark. "But only one or two has turned up in the coin bags here," the Treasury official said.

ONE DAY, the official recalled, "about 30 kids came into the Treasury and lined up—that was when we allowed two—and each bought two Kennedy half-dollars. By golly, the leader with them took all the coins from the kids as soon as they left." The leader apparently had rounded up the kids on the street and had solicited their buying power with dimes or quarters.

The Treasury man said he doesn't have a Kennedy half-dollar himself. "We're out of them right now," he said, "but we expect to have some more in a few days."

Robert Bloor was named grand knight of Salem Council No. 1818, Knights of Columbus. Other officers are Fred Steffel, William Lippert, John Smeltz, Ed Scullion, John Gallagher, Frank Fink, Joseph Scullion and Robert Tubbs.

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Trumbull County sheriff's deputies sought today to learn details of the fatal shooting of James E. Corbett, 43, business agent for Structural Iron Workers Union Local 207 of Youngstown.

Corbett's body was found Wednesday at his home in Hubbard Township. Deputies said he was shot in the head with a .38 caliber automatic, which was found in a dresser drawer. Mrs. Corbett was held for questioning, but deputies said she was too upset to give a statement.

age children in this village is a summertime recreation program that works off youthful steam despite the broiling sun of recent days. Besides, the boys are learning skills in sports that will help them individually and scholastically.

Boys ages eight to 14 work out three days a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9 to noon under the direction of Paul Conrad Jr., an athletic youth with the spirit of teaching inside him. Conrad a grid star at LHS, is returning to Heidelberg University for his pre-medical studies this fall. He's a sophomore.

The program extends for eight weeks to mid-August.

Youngsters are getting instructions in basketball, tennis, softball, volleyball, golf and touch football.

High school principal George Tronbitas said Leetonia had a summer recreation program several years ago, but it was dropped in 1957. It was re-born again when Conrad showed interest in helping the boys to learn more about sports and the Board of Education gave it the green light.

Many of the youths in the athletic program have been picking strawberries this month and the training classes were delayed to accommodate this group.

Johnson, Greek Minister Confer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson confers again today with Greek Prime Minister George Papandreou in the second round of his efforts to keep Greece and Turkey from drifting into war over their Cyprus dispute.

Johnson is reported to feel his efforts may be succeeding. Aides said he was encouraged by his previous two days of conferences, which ended Tuesday, with the other side in the struggle—Turkish Prime Minister Ismet Inonu.

However, after arriving, the Greek delegation let it be known that Greece was not too happy with the communique Johnson and Inonu had issued which referred to "the present binding effects of existing treaties."

This was taken as a reference to the 1960 Cyprus Treaty giving Turkey, as well as Greece and Great Britain, the right to intervene with troops.

Greece refuses to recognize this right to intervene and has warned it would consider any Turkish landing on Cyprus to be an act of aggression.

DIES OF NATURAL CAUSES

200 At Reception

Mrs. Warren Wilson of Salem, sister of the groom, registered the 200 guests who attended the reception following the ceremony in fellowship hall of the church.

Centering the table, which was covered with a white cloth, was a three-tier white cake decorated with flowers and greens. Flanking the cake were arrangements of pink carnations and white candles in crystal holders.

For the wedding trip to Virginia Beach, Va., the new Mrs. Weingart wore a two-piece white suit trimmed in coral with coral accessories and a gardenia corsage.

The bride, a graduate of Youngstown University, is employed by the bridal department Store in Youngstown. Her husband, also a graduate of Youngstown University, is employed as an accountant at the National Rubber Machinery Co. in Columbiana.

They will reside at RD 4, Kent Rd., Salem, after their return Monday.

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: We grow greenhouse tomatoes and are very proud of their quality. We wish the consumer to enjoy their quality also.

It makes us sad to pass homes and see tomatoes perched on a window sill in the bright sunlight.

May I tell people how to ripen their tomatoes to get the best possible quality?

The tomato is placed calyx (stem end) side down on the counter or some convenient place at room temperature away from the sunlight.

When it is ripened to one's taste, refrigerate and your tomato will keep for a couple of weeks.

Sunlight will scald the tomato before it is properly ripened.

JESSIE ROT. DEAR HELOISE: Here is a hint I would like to share with all you girls who want to lose weight but who get so hungry while cooking for your family.

Before you start to prepare a meal, put lots of perfume around your neck and shoulders, then fix your face, check your posture and think about how much prettier you are going to be. You will smell so beautiful you can't forget.

When the food starts cooking, all you can smell is perfume—instead of the dinner you are cooking—and you won't get so hungry.

JILL. DEAR HELOISE: Here's a tip for those who live in hard water areas and who have aerator type faucets in their sinks.

These faucets often become clogged with minerals and start behaving like a spray after a while. To correct this, simply unscrew the cap on the end of the faucet and remove the copper screening. Put the cap and the screening discs in a small pan, cover with vinegar, and boil about 10 minutes.

This method removes every bit of sediment and minerals and is so much easier than any other method I have ever tried. What's more, the parts come out clean and shining, and your faucet works like new again.

DORIS E. THOMSON. When you remove the cap, be sure to see which screen goes back into the cap first, because some faucets have two or three screens and they must be put back in their proper positions.

DEAR HELOISE: If travelers would place their name and address on the inside of their cameras, the owners of curio shops, etc., could mail the forgotten camera back to the owner.

MRS. THERESA SMITH.

Knight of the Road

By JERRY BUCK

RICHMONT, Va. (AP) Not too long ago, I was asking what ever happened to all the hoboes. A good guess is some are living in Florida on pensions.

That's where Al Gamby is. He's a card-carrying hobo who rode the rods for nearly half a century before marrying in Milwaukee, Wis., and settling down in retirement in Bradenton, Fla.

Al, like myself, laments the passing of the hobo, and he is a little scornful of the bad imitations thumbing their way across America today. In his day a hobo wouldn't think of hitchhiking, but Al concedes that today's trains aren't made with the hobo in mind.

After I recalled in this corner the hoboes I'd known as a kid, Al hid himself down to the Bradenton Herald and talked to reporter Tom Geffs. Then he sent me a letter and a copy of Tom's story.

First of all, Al wants to clear up any misunderstanding about the difference between a hobo a bum and a tramp. A hobo will work to help pay his way, explains Al, who put in his time as a waiter and a fruit picker. "Now, you take a bum — he won't work at all. He gets along by begging," Al says. "A tramp will work now and then, but he won't ride on anything — you offer a tramp on the highway a ride and he'll glare at you and stomp off. He walks everywhere he goes with his worldly goods tied up in a bundle."

To prove he's entitled to the honor of being called a hobo Al carries two cards. One is his membership card in the "International Itinerant Migratory Workers Union," Hoboes of America."

The other proclaims him a "Knight of the Road," a distinction he earned in 1939 at the hobo convention in Milwaukee. The delegates, it seemed, had gulped down the last of the refreshments and disaster appeared imminent until Al put the bite on a local brewery for half a barrel of the stuff that made Milwaukee famous. The king of the hoboes, Jeff Davis, knighted him on the spot.

Al, a chipper 67, says he took to the road at the age of 16 and was taken under the wing of older, wiser hoboes. One of the first things they taught him was how to get on and off a high-ball freight without breaking his neck. Thereafter, he was strictly a train man.

While hoboes are commonly associated with boxcars, Al says they occasionally rode the "cushions." If a hobo had a little money and was willing to part with it, he might buy a ticket.

His most memorable ride was on the Twentieth Century Limited between Elkhart, Ind., and Toledo, Ohio. It was memorable, he says, because for the whole trip he clung to the roof of a pullman as the limited barreled along at a frightening clip. When the train pulled into Toledo, Al got off as fast as he could, his lungs full of smoke and his face and clothes singed by hot cinders from the steam locomotive.

Al admits being a hobo was no bowl of cherries, but he says he wouldn't trade it for the customary million dollars.

He's retired now. He owns his own home, a car and a boat, an like countless other retirees in Florida, whiles away the time fishing.

Barry Would Lead GOP to Defeat, Scranton Asserts

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater for president would spell defeat for the Republican party this fall, says his chief rival, Gov. William W. Scranton.

lenge it. Dixon estimated that if the industry goes to court it will take four years of litigation before the rule can go into effect.

The FTC, in the rule announced by Dixon Wednesday requires all cigarette manufacturers to label their products by Jan. 1 with a warning "that cigarette smoking is dangerous to health and may cause death from cancer and other diseases."

The commission set a July 1, 1965, deadline for this warning label to be included in all advertising, although it said it would postpone this deadline if the industry could convince the commission that it had changed its advertising in such a way to make the requirement unnecessary.

The announcement was reflected at once in the stock market. While the New York Stock Exchange list was scoring its best advance in a month, prices of major tobacco stocks slipped 75 cents to $1.50.

France and also in Egypt."

Another paper called Khrushchev a "prisoner of the Swedish security police."

But the Swedish government is taking no chance of any harm coming to Khrushchev. Thousands of embittered refugees from behind the Iron Curtain live in Sweden.

At a banquet for Khrushchev in Stockholm Tuesday night, 14 detectives ate with the guests at strategically placed tables. Another 100 police surrounded the building and a dozen more patrolled the wine cellars.

Waitresses had to go through two police checks.

Swiss chef Werner Voegeli, who prepared the menu for a luncheon at the royal palace, reported with some indignation that he and eight waitresses were subjected to medical tests to insure that they had no communicable disease.

Commissioner Warns Of Rabies Danger

In view of the recent increase of rabies in wildlife in Northeast Ohio, Dr. F. R. Crowe, Salem health commissioner, warns all persons of the danger involved in having any contact with suspicious acting wildlife or any stray domestic animals.

Dr. Crowe urges any person bitten by animals to immediately report the incident to the health department and if possible to keep the animal alive. In order to examine the animal for rabies, the head must not be damaged.

"It is sound judgment that his candidacy would set up our party for a defeat of major proportions," the Pennsylvania governor told a news conference Wednesday.

"But if Sen. Goldwater is nominated, I will work for him and support him no matter whatever long odds there are against his being elected," Scranton said.

He made the statements en route from Charleston, W. Va. to Miami. In both Florida and West Virginia he sought delegate support for his campaign.

In Miami, Scranton addressed 16 Florida delegates and a meeting of the Florida Association of Broadcasters. Scranton gained no promise of support from the delegates, but got a standing ovation. Twenty-one members of the 34-vote delegation favor Goldwater. The others are uncommitted.

In his address to the broadcasters Scranton proposed that the United States organize and equip Cuban exile forces fighting to free their homeland of the Communist government of Fidel Castro.

At the news conference, Scranton said:

"Since in politics almost anything can happen, it would not be impossible for Se. Goldwater to beat (President) Johnson in November.

"But there is such a thing as playing with odds so long that only the most optimistic partisan would have anything but a glimmer of hope.

"I believe that would be the position of the party with Barry as a candidate. It is not possible to exaggerate the tremendously difficult task to get him elected."

Goldwater has more than enough delegates to capture the nomination if his support holds up through the first ballot at the San Francisco convention.

Scranton pointed his air tour today at delegates in Cleveland, Ohio, and Lansing, Mich. Ohio's 58 votes are pledged to favorite son Gov. James A. Rhodes. Forty-five of Michigan's 48 delegates are uncommitted. Goldwater has the other three.

Zilske of 2168 Southeast Blvd., is in fairly good condition in Salem City Hospital where he was admitted at 11:50 a.m. Wednesday for treatment of possible head injuries and contusions of the neck received when a tree limb fell on him while at work for the State Department of Highways on Pancake Hill near Negley.

East Liverpool Gets $33,358 Federal Grant

The city of East Liverpool has been awarded a $33,358 federal grant to pay two-thirds of the $50,03 cost of preparing a master plan to guide future growth and development of the community, Rep. Wayne L. Hays announced Wednesday in Washington.

The 18th District congressman said he was advised the grant was approved by the housing and Home Finance Agency and the Urban Renewal Administration.

Approval of the grant clears the way for the firm of Carroll V. Hill Associates of Pittsburgh and Columbus to begin work — probably next month — on the detailed job of preparing the plan. The work is expected to require two to three years.

The grant received by East Liverpool was part of a combined allocation made by the federal agencies to cover preparation of master plans for the cities of Marion and East Liverpool. The funds will go to the Ohio Department of Development at Columbus, which will administer the work. Along with state funds, East Liverpool will contribute $12,200 as its share of the preparation of the plan.

Thomas Nicholson was employed to repair the fire wall on the north side of David Anderson High School at a cost of $1,400. The other bid was John Hollinger, $1,850. Nicholson will also be requested to check the wall between the wood shop and the old vo-ag room. The fire wall is causing roof damage and water leakage.

The board approved payment of $82.50 to Mahoning Painting Co. for materials and labor for repair of the high school roof damaged by objects thrown on it.

Members approved the purchase of a used, 20-cubic foot freezer for $125 from Sam Campanelli plus $15 moving fee to Raymond Reese.

Also approved were several testbooks for use in the school system next year.

The group discussed progress of the summer school repair program and heard reports on maintenance matters.

Man's Death Ruled As Traffic Fatality

Services are planned at Norwalk for a 62-year-old former East Palestine man who died Tuesday in Salem City Hospital of injuries received in a one-car accident Saturday night on Pancakes Hill on Route 170 near Negley. Dr. William Kolozzi, county coroner, said Merle McGee, driver of the car which overturned, died of a broken neck.

His death is the 11th in Columbiana County due to traffic mishaps this year. Also hurt in the crash when McGee lost control on a curve were McGee's wife, Francis, 61; Ray Keller, 63, of 65 W. Grant St., East Palestine, and his wife, Dorothy, 58. Mrs. McGee was released and the Kellers are in fair condition at Salem City Hospital.

The following committees were appointed by Mr. Bush: Charter, Mr. Bush, Ray Humphrey, Richard Stouffer and Edward Pfau; homecoming, Vaughn Harshman, chairman, Lee Chamberlain and Jan Lendak; homecoming activities, Mr. Pfau, Dale Swartz and Dennis Keller; editor of publication, Ray Humphrey; membership, Robert Stouffer, and scholarship, Bruce Swearingen. The next meeting will be July 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the School of Technology library.

In answer to the major problem concerning the proposed building site - that of water supply - village officials have indicated a willingness to work out the matter with the company. The sheriff charged him with possession of burglary tools, forcing entrance to a safe or vault, burglary in the night season, and carrying a concealed weapon. Bond was set at $30,000. He will appear for a preliminary hearing in the Monroe County Courthouse at 10 a.m. Monday.

2 Traffic Victims Remain 'Serious'

Harold Hartzell, 28, whose car struck a train Wednesday morning, remains in "poor" condition at Alliance City Hospital and Gerald Wheat, 21, is still on the serious list at Youngstown Southside Hospital after his car hit a truck Monday near Berlin Center.

Hartzell suffered possible skull fracture, broken collarbone, severe lacerations of the back of the head and back injuries yesterday at 9:15 a.m. when he drove a Mahoning County truck into the path of a southbound Pennsylvania Railroad freight train at the Western Reserve crossing, a half-mile west of Route 534.

Cpl. John Jordan of the Canfield post of the State Highway Patrol said the locomotive was operated by Victor A. Zarilla, 53, of New Castle, Pa. The train struck the truck as it was eastbound on Western Reserve Rd.

$7,640 Set Aside For Nurses Aide Training

Congressman Wayne L. Hays said today that a total of $7,640 in federal funds has been allocated by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to the Salem Trades Extension Program for the new nurses aide training program here.

Provision has been made for the training of 90 persons as nurses aides in a four-week course of instruction. A starting date for the instruction has not been set by H. W. Cameron, director of the trades school.

Mikoyan Asks British Forces Leave Borneo

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan declared today British forces should be withdrawn from Borneo and a new sampling be taken of public opinion as to whether the people of Sarawak and Sabah support Malaysia.

In a speech to an enthusiastic crowd, Mikoyan again pledged Soviet support to Indonesian President Sukarno's campaign to crush Malaysia.

Sukarno spoke after Mikoyan and asserted that Indonesia was prepared to recognize Malaysia if another assessment is made of the wishes of the people of Sarawak and Sabah.

Sukarno criticized a U.N. mission which reported that a majority of the people of Sarawak and Sabah were in favor of joining Malaysia. The survey was made prior to the formation of Malaysia last Sept. 16 by merging those two states, Singapore and the Federation of Malaya.

Sukarno said the U.N. mission did the job in nine days "and we were faced with a fait accompli. Following this undemocratic ascertainment, Malaysia was proclaimed."

Mikoyan also rejected the U.N. findings.

In an earlier speech to the Indonesian Parliament, Mikoyan said threat of Soviet retaliation kept the United States from making large - scale war and ventured only "to make small-scale wars such as in South Viet Nam."

bassador. Already on the scene was Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, who a few days earlier had taken over as chief of U.S. military forces from Gen. Paul D. Harkins.

Well-informed officials now say that a new and probably "big name" director of U.S. economic assistance also will be sent to Saigon on top of a routine change of personnel which was already scheduled.

Joseph L. Brent, director of the aid mission, is being replaced by Stuart H. Van Dyke, formerly a director in Turkey. Both men are long experienced in foreign aid operations overseas and both rank high in their agency, according to officials here.

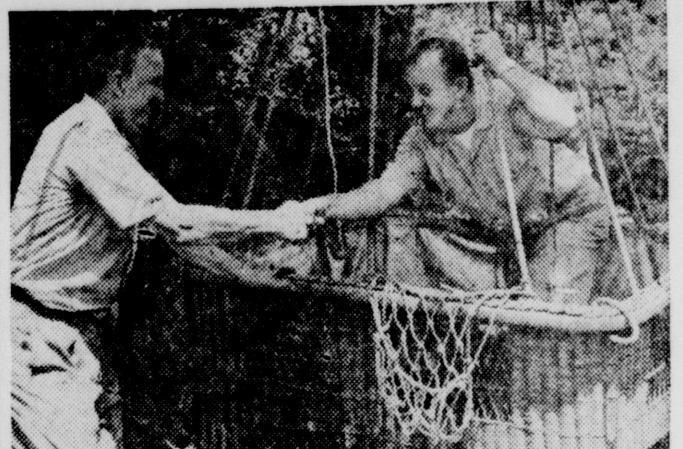

But what the Johnson administration is now said to be seeking is a kind of super staff of high powered talent with brains and reputation in combination to produce outstanding results and the maximum possible improvement in the situation.

Salineville Chief Applicants Sought

SALINEVILLE — Applications for the position of chief of police are being accepted by Mayor Stanley Fitch following the resignation of Chief Roy Lewis, which will go into effect June 30.

The job pays $245 per month, plus providing furnished living quarters, including all utilities. Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 60 and must be able to pass a physical examination. A person does not have to be a resident of Salineville to apply.

Lewis, who has served two years at the post, announced his resignation Saturday to work for a Minerva firm. All applications must be submitted by noon July 9.

SAFELY DOWN: Student pilot Lee Cermak is congratulated by instructor-pilot Dean Mealy after his free balloon flight.

THE BIG TEST: Student pilot Roy Belotti takes over at blimp controls after completing his training in a free balloon.

BASICS: Getting the feel of a free balloon—man's first form of flight.

KEEPING A UNIQUE CRAFT ALIVE — In this jet age, lighter-than-air flight is almost passe—but not in Akron, Ohio, birthplace for most of America's dirigibles. To keep alive this heroic but less sophisticated era of aviation history, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. trains one to three pilots a year for its Mayflower and Columbia blimps. A basic part of this training is free ballooning, man's first form of flight. Reason: in essence, a dirigible is a motor-driven balloon. In case of engine failure, the airship becomes a free balloon; so free balloon techniques are needed to bring down the airship safely without power, if necessary. Training requirements follow closely those for heavier-than-air pilots and then . . . membership in a small, unique, highly skilled profession.

Maina is an exchange student from Kenya, Africa, who has been living with several different families in the Columbiana area for the past three years.

In May he graduated from Crestview High School. He plans to attend Kent State University this fall.

Tuesday evening's Kiwanis "work night" which included plans of trimming apple trees at Orchard Hill School, was not too successful because of rain, despite a good attendance and large amount of equipment.

MRS. JOHN PERRY, the Colleen's drill team supervisor and Mrs. Judy Altomare, assistant, announce a plan for two new drill team units in Leetonia, to begin lessons soon. Miss Gyll Floding, baton instructor from Salem, will give lessons to the new pupils until a routine is established.

Mrs. Perry of 191 West Main St. or Mrs. Altomare of 467 Cherry Fork may be contacted from 1 to 3 p.m. daily. The new units will represent the entire village.

Angels Roll To 8th Straight, Rip Senators 9-5

Orioles Hand Yanks Setback

Chisox Dump Bosox;
Detroit Clouts A's

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Willie Smith is in a rut, and the Los Angeles Angels hope it gets even deeper.

Smith, a refugee from the pitcher's mound, delivered the game-winning hit for the third consecutive night as the Angels whipped Washington 9-5 Wednesday.

The newly converted outfielder drove in five runs with a homer and a triple, lifting Los Angeles to its eighth straight victory, longest streak in the majors this season and longest in the team's 3½-year history. The home run, his third, came in the seventh inning after Vic Power singled and Jim Fregosi walked and wiped out a 5-3 deficit. He added a triple in the eighth, again sending in Power and Fregosi.

The night before, the 25-year-old Smith socked a two-run homer for a 2-0 Angels' victory and Monday night he singled home the deciding run.

The Angels' spurt has left them in eighth place in the American League but has placed them only two games away from fifth. A victory over Kansas City tonight would vault them into a tie for sixth.

Smith's latest performance was an abbreviated one — he didn't enter the game until the fifth inning. Still he raised his batting average 21 points to .340 and increased his RBI total to 15 in 50 times at bat.

Despite his monotonous onslaught, Smith proved he is fallible. When he appeared as a pinch hitter in the fifth, he reached first base only because of an error.

And after lashing the triple, he was picked off third by catcher Mike Brumley as Bob Dillaba struck out.

In other AL games, Baltimore defeated New York 7-4, Chicago trounced Boston 8-1, Detroit battered Kansas City 9-5 and Minnesota nipped Cleveland 3-2 after losing 12-3.

Smith wasn't the only big hitter for the Angels. Power hit safely four times and Jim Piersall and Bob Perry three each. Dick Phillips had three hits for the Senators. Reliever Bob Lee picked up his fourth victory, all against Washington.

A three-base throwing error by relief pitcher Stan Williams in the eighth inning led to the Yankees' downfall. The error came on a bunt by Willie Kirkland with two men on, none out and the score tied 4-4.

Williams, trying for a force at third, flipped the ball into left field, permitting Bob Saverine and Jerry Adair to score. Kirkland raced to third from where he scored on Dick Hall's bunt.

Gary Peters hurled a five-hitter for his eighth victory against three defeats for Chicago. Ron Hansen's two-run inside-the-park homer in the four-run first triggered the triumph. Boston rookie Tony Conigliaro fell into the left-field stands trying to catch Hansen's drive.

Conigliaro was unconscious for a while but recovered before going to the hospital where preliminary X rays revealed bruises of the left ankle, knee cap and wrist.

The Tigers outslugged the Athletics on the hitting of Gates Brown and Dick McAuliffe. Brown hit two homers for three runs batted in while McAuliffe drove in three with two singles and a homer. Rocky Colavito sparked a five-run Kansas City fourth inning with a three-run homer.

Max Alvis led the Indians' first-game attack, hitting two homers, one a grand slam in the six-run third. Al Smith drove in three runs, two on a homer in the fifth. Dick Donovan scattered eight hits in going the distance.

Dick Stigman gave up six hits and struck out 12 in the Twins' triumph. Sam McDowell lost his first game after winning three. Minnesota scored the deciding run in the fifth when Rich Rollins doubled, went to third on a sacrifice bunt and scored on Harmon Killebrew's sacrifice fly. Bob Chance hit a two-run homer for Cleveland in the fourth.

East Battles West At Buffalo

All-Star Football Slated Saturday

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — If speedy Bob Brown should happen to bump someone a little hard Saturday night, that someone might not bounce up again very quickly.

Brown, a guard at Nebraska, weighed in at 290 pounds Wednesday as he joined his mates on the West team in their daily drill for the fourth annual All-America football game, to be played in War Memorial Stadium.

Brown, a 22-year-old from Cleveland, stands 6-5 and hopes to make the grade with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Before touring Niagara Falls with his teammates and the East team's players, Brown and the other 6 gridders here went through their fourth day of workouts.

Midway through the East's practice, Coach Pete Elliott of Illinois took a few seconds to press for more drive.

He noted that, after drilling in 92-degree temperature Tuesday, the players appeared to be lagging in Wednesday's 70 degrees.

Only a few words were needed from Elliott to put life into the East's workout, which was concentrated on punts, punt returns and passing.

The West worked hard on its pass defense and ground game.

The kickoff for the nationally televised game by ABC is set for 8:30 p.m., EST. A crowd of 25,000 is expected.

McKinley Pressed In Struggle With Brazilian at Wimbledon

By JOHN GALE
Associated Press Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Wimbledon tennis championships — packed so far with hairsbreadth escapes — are also living up to their colorful reputation as an arena for giant killers.

With only three days play complete, three of the men's seeds already have been vanquished.

In addition, the personal ambitions of several much-fancied champion Chuck McKinley from San Antonio, Tex., have been rudely threatened by brash and young up-and-comers on the international tennis circuit.

The perils of Pauline have nothing on Wimbledon these days. Any ranking player can expect trouble in almost any round.

McKinley's close shave came at the height of battle with Tomas Koch, the 19-year-old Brazilian prospect who is rated in some quarters as a top player of the future.

At two sets all with Koch leading 1-0 and 40-30 against service in the fifth, the champion struggled to survive. He made it — but with not much to spare — 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

The record contrasted oddly with McKinley's Wimbledon performance last year when he went through the tournament without dropping a set.

The three seeded players already out are Dennis Ralston, No. 5, from Bakersfield, Calif.; Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli, No. 7, and Australia's Martin Mulligan, No. 8.

Pietrangeli and Mulligan both succumbed tamely in straight sets — the Italian losing to Pierre Barthes of France 6-3, 7-5, 6-4, and the Australian going deep under to his compatriot Bob Hewitt 6-4, 6-2, 6-4. The giants looked pretty fragile.

Even No. 1 seed Roy Emerson of Australia dropped a set against a tooth-and-nail fighter from Yugoslavia, Nicola Pilic. The final score was 6-3, 11-9, 3-6, 6-4.

Salem Legion Trims Hanoverton Squad

Hilton Moffett tossed a one-hitter to spark the American Legion baseball team to a 3-1 victory over Hanoverton in a county Legion contest at the losers' field Wednesday.

The Salem aggregation will get a chance for revenge against East Liverpool in a clash at Centennial park here Sunday at 2 p.m.

In the first game between the two squads, the River City nine dealt Salem its only loss of the season 4-0.

George Begalla was the hitting star for Salem in yesterday's game. He socked a triple and three singles.

Rich Sweitzer had two hits for the winners who chalked up their third win in four starts. Ed Wikersham was the only Hanoverton batter to get a hit off Moffett, who struck out 15.

Walter Alston didn't appreciate the beating his Los Angeles Dodgers took in the National League All-Star poll the other day but it's unlikely he'll demand a recount.

Alston will take base hits over ballots any day and the Dodgers have been on a hit rampage since their shutout in the NL player vote for the 1964 Classic.

The Dodgers, punchless throughout the early part of the season, exploded for the second time in three days Wednesday, burying Milwaukee 15-4 behind a 19-hit barrage good for 32 title bases.

The offensive binge was the biggest thus far for the world champions, topping their 15-hit output in Monday's 10-9 victory over the Braves.

The contributions of Maury Wills and John Roseboro to Wednesday's rout undoubtedly soothed Alston's feelings further. The manager was particularly miffed when neither was named to the first or second All-Star teams.

Wills stroked four singles and drew a walk in five times at bat, scored three runs, drove in one and stole his 24th and 25th bases. Roseboro hit a home run, his second of the season.

Elsewhere in the NL, Philadelphia outlasted Chicago 9-8, San Francisco shaded Cincinnati 2-1, Houston trimmed St. Louis 7-5 and Pittsburgh topped New York 3-1.

In the American League, Baltimore beat New York 7-4, Chicago clubbed Boston 8-1, Detroit downed Kansas City 9-5, Los Angeles defeated Washington 9-5 and Minnesota divided a doubleheader with Cleveland, winning 3-2 after a 12-3 loss.

The Dodgers' assault on five Milwaukee pitchers helped Don Drysdale breeze to his 10th victory. The big right-hander chipped in with a single and double and drove in a run.

The victory left Los Angeles one victory short of the 500 mark and 2½ games behind fourth-place Cincinnati.

It also bolstered Alston's case for adding several Dodgers to the All-Star squad he'll manage against the American League on July 7.

John Herrnstein's seventh-inning home run proved decisive for the league-leading Phillies, who blew an early 5-1 lead. Richie Allen hit a three-run homer for the Phils, his 14th of the year, and Ernie Banks poked his eighth for the Cubs, tying Joe DiMaggio for 13th position on the all-time circuit list.

Orlando Cepeda's two-run homer backed the 14-strikeout, seven-hit pitching of Ron Herbel in the Giants' victory over the Reds. Herbel's strikeout total was a single-game high in the NL this season.

Tribe Splits Doubleheader With Twins

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, who had scored a total of five runs in four preceding games, came to life with a bang Wednesday night to trounce the Minnesota Twins 12-3 in the first game of a doubleheader. It was the Indians' biggest game of the year.

Former Indian Dick Stigman cooled the Tribe bats in the second game for a 3-2 Minnesota victory, handing rookie southpaw Sam McDowell his first defeat of the season.

Max Alvis provided the spark that set off the bang in the first game, hitting two homers, one of them with the bases loaded.

Dick Donovan shut the Twins out for seven innings while his teammates gave him a comfortable 10-0 margin. It was the second straight complete game for the veteran right-hander.

The Twins didn't get on the scoreboard until Zoilo Versalles hit a two-run homer in the eighth. Jimmie Hall added a homer in the ninth.

Alvis' grand slam home run came in the third after Donovan walked, Leon Wagner singled and John Romano walked. Max drove the ball down the left field line 360 feet, for his 10th round-tripper of the season.

McDowell won eight straight for Portland of the Pacific Coast League before the Indians recalled him late last month. He brought along his good - luck horseshoe and picked up three straight victories.

But last night the Twins got to him for six hits and three runs in six innings, and Sonny Sieber came in to finish up.

Stigman scattered six hits, and the only runs off him came in the fourth on Chance's homer after Romano singled.

Another former Indian, Jim (Mudcat) Grant pitches today for the Twins, facing Jack Kralick, who is going after his eighth victory.

Deerfield Loses 3-1 To Kent Unit

Gougliers of Kent edged Deerfield, 3 to 1, in a close game at Deerfield, Wednesday, in the Portage County E League.

Marsh of the visitors and Berry of Deerfield hooked up in a tight pitcher's battle.

Marsh had the better of the duel, holding Deerfield to two scattered singles by Sinn and Swasey. He also doubled to drive in the winning run in the seventh inning. Berry limited Gougliers to two singles and a double, and struck out seven.

Gougliers scored a run in the third inning, and drove across a pair of runs in the top of the seventh. Deerfield loaded the bases in the last of the seventh with one out. A run scored on a walk. Cochran then lined sharply to the first baseman, and kehres was caught off first for a double play to end the game.

Deerfield will meet the Durco team of Ravenna at Brown field in Ravenna Friday at 6:30 p.m.

Dairy Isle, Jaycees Wins SJBL Contests

Bob Daley hit two home runs, and scored four times to pace Dairy Isle to a 23-1 victory over Hobbycraft in Class G junior baseball at Kelley Field Wednesday.

Jaycees broke open its contest with CIO 1538 with an eight-run rally in the third and went on to post an 11-7 victory.

Knights of Columbus came from behind in the late innings to edge Italian Club 8-7 in Class G competition at Centennial park.

Most of Dairy Isle's (6-3) hits were for extra bases. J. C. Phillips socked a home run, triple, double and single. Robin Bailey belted a triple, two doubles and a single.

Bob Houger collected two doubles and a single, and Albert Freeze had a triple and single, and Bill Ed Scullion a double and single.

Alan Hoffman, who doubled and tripled, was the only Hobbycraft (3-5) batter to get hits off winning pitcher Bob Daley, who struck out 12 and walked four.

Jaycees' key hits in the big third inning against CIO 1538 were singles by Dennis Sell, Ron Martin, Mike Cosgrove, a triple by Kevin Marnane and a home run by Wayne Poff.

Poff also had a triple and single, and Cosgrove added a triple and single.

Bill McRae and Tom Warren were the only batters to get hits for the losers (3-6).

Knights of Columbus (7-2) scored its winning runs in the sixth without getting a base hit. Walks issued to John Pukalski, Jeff Martin, Dan Russell, Dan Palmer and Mike Corl made the difference.

Dinsmore to Retire From OSES Office After 22 Years

East Liverpool will lose the services of an affable, conscientious public servant after Tuesday when Harry L. Dinsmore, manager of the Ohio State Employment Service office, retires. Dinsmore has been manager of the Liverpool office since June 2, 1948, coming from Salem where he had been stationed for two years, and in the employment service 22 years. Dinsmore, who celebrated his 70th birthday last November, had been looking forward to some traveling after his retirement but a heart ailment may curtail some of his plans. "I'll do whatever I can," he comments. He will reside with his wife in Canfield.

Dinsmore joined the employment service in February, 1942, a month after the federal government took over the employment service operations of the state.

During World War II he was interviewer, supervisor and assistant manager of the Youngstown office. When the War Manpower Commission was formed, Dinsmore became assistant area director, supervising employment office in Salem, East Liverpool, Youngstown, Niles and Warren.

In 1946, he went to the Salem office as an interviewer and also served six months as acting manager of the Alliance office before going to East Liverpool in 1948.

He and his father at one time ran a farm and coal mine

Harry L. Dinsmore

The Dinsmores have a son, daughter and five grandchildren. Their son, Clarke, and his wife and two children reside in Bangkok, Thailand, where he is a sales engineer for Caltex, Ltd., an oil producer. The son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Duncan Jr., of Cumberland, Md., returned last year after two years in Norway and Sweden where he was a consulting engineer for Pittsburgh production management firm.

Honor Graduate

Miss Dawn Kloos

Miss Dawn Kloos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Kloos of 210 W. 5th St., graduated with honors from Cleveland Metropolitan General Hospital School of Nursing. She was one of six honor graduates in a class of 32 students.

She plans to remain at the hospital to work and attend Western Reserve University to obtain her bachelor of science degree in nursing.

Down on The Farm

ASC Voters Sought

Farmers are reminded that states of nominees for membership on agricultural, stabilization conservation community committees soon will be established at the ASCS county office in Lisbon.

A special effort is being made to secure the greatest possible participation of eligible voters in the election.

J. Glenn Bates, chairman of the county ASC committee, said farmers who are eligible to vote in the committee elections also have the right to nominate as candidates for committee membership any farmer who is eligible and willing to serve. Such petitions, signed by six or more eligible voters, may be filed at the county office any time before July 10.

A "farmer eligible to vote in the committee elections," according to the chairman, is generally a farmer who is taking part or is eligible to take part in one or more of the national farm programs which the ASC committee helps to administer. A person eligible to hold office as a committeeman is a local resident who is eligible to vote in the election. Further information may be obtained from the ASCS office.

The election of ASC community committees throughout Columbiana County will be held by mail between July 24 and Aug. 9. Boundaries of the communities will remain the same.

Each community election will choose three community committeemen and two alternates. The chairman, vice chairman, and regular member of the elected ASC community committee will also serve respectively as delegate, alternate delegate, and second alternate delegate to the county convention, to be held soon thereafter, where the ASC county committee will be chosen.

Award Nominees Sought

Nominations of a Columbiana County farmer for the 1964 county wildlife conservation award will be accepted the rest of this month.

Nominees of candidates may be submitted to Howard Adrian, Lisbon RD 3, county fish and game hearing chairman.

The award is presented annually in each Ohio county to a person who is making an outstanding contribution in providing hunting or fishing opportunities as a result of management decisions affecting at least 50 acres of private property.

James Kelley of Guilford Lake, county game protector, said the award will consist of a certificate from the Ohio Division of Wildlife and a one-year subscription to the Ohio Conservation Bulletin.

The awards committee will be composed of a representative group of farmers, sportsmen and conservationists.

Kelley said letters of nomination must include name and address of person nominated; location and size of managed tract or private property; details of accomplishments to provide opportunities for hunting and or fishing, and name and address of person submitting letter.

VOTES ON LOSING SIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, voted on the losing side as the Senate Wednesday defeated, 42-38, an amendment by Sens. J. William Fulbright, D - Ark., and Wayne Morse, D - Ore., which would have cut $267.5 million from a $5.25 billion space authorization bill.

COSTS TO COLLECT
CHICAGO (AP) — The cost of collecting federal taxes is currently running 45 cents for every $100 of revenue. The Internal Revenue Service says that during 1962 it determined the ratio when the nation's taxpayers put a then record $99.4 billions in the government coffers. The present cost of 45 cents compares with 32 cents per $100 in 1944, the lowest on record, and the all-time high of $5.30 of 1871.

TV-Radio Today

By ALAN GILL

Whenever Destry, Cheyenne or Bronco gets a big wet kiss from the girl in gingham, every 9-year-old boy in the country, if he is like a 9-year-old boy I know, averts his eyes and says a quiet, "Uk." Those of us who have progressed at least beyond our 15th birthday are made, of course, of sterner stuff; and to us, a small endearment is hardly cause for nausea or for the conviction that our cause has been somehow sullied.

From the first English comedy, "Ralph Roister Doister," to Shakespeare's first effort, "The Comedy of Errors," to the first English novel, "Tom Jones," it's been love that's made the world go round.

Love also has, and more recently, put kings in a whirl ("Camelot"), together with college professors ("Whos Afraid of Virginia Woolf?") and butchers from the Bronx ("Marty").

IN FACT, the greatest literature in the world through almost every era has been a literature of love — the word "almost" being only reluctantly added, because some wise guy out there would be holler-ing out the names of Dante and Kafka, Strindberg and "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

Love is at the heart of experience and therefore at the heart of drama. Name your ten favorite movies, and nine of them will be love stories.

Name the finest comedies and dramas you've ever seen on TV and chances are they were about love. They also were from seasons long past, because love has disappeared — totally disappeared — from television.

I can think of only one real love story that appeared on TV in the last 12 months and it was "Little Moon of Alban," which was staged originally six years ago, when love was still in vogue and blomo.

GIRLS IN GINGHAM, of course, still give Destry a peck on the cheek from time to time; I've read the news that Robert Reed will be given a girl friend on "The Defenders" next season; Amos Burke of "Burke's Law" has a gleam in his eye that was not put there entirely by champagne or hero-in; and women have been known to throw themselves at the shuffling feet of "The Fugitive." I don't think you could pin the label, Love Story, on any of them, however.

It's an awful shame, because TV is so peculiarly made for intimacy. The early television artists — Chayevsky, Foote, Mosel, Gibson, Miller, Arthur, Costigan — realized this and built their "Golden Years" almost entirely on stories of love. I don't know when TV ever again will rise to the level of a "Marty" or a "Little Moon of Alban"; but it will have to start with the realization by some producer that a boy meeting a girl and then losing her and then finding her is the stuff from which good writing, fine entertainment and large ratings can be had.

NOW, WHILE we're still on the subject of love, I'd like to mention the strange trend toward a joke that could be called simply, "The Joke" — or, more elaborately, the "I'm All Right Jack Joke." It's all over the dial these days. And I wish to hell it would go away.

Godfrey Cambridge has been getting off "The Joke" on "The Jack Paar Show" in recent weeks. "The Joke" pops up in the precincts of the Johnny Carson — Steve Allen — "Open End" type of show, too, whenever the talk gets around flippantly to the civil rights issue.

Of course, I appreciate its irony, its history and its current revival. Besides, Godfrey Cambridge is a funny comedian, blessed with a great funny man's mug. But "The Joke" isn't a particularly cogent or helpful one; the laugh it gets is a sorry, dirty one; and it pays no compliment to the stature of the man who delivers it.

7:30 — Ch. 3, TEMPLE HOUSTON. Cowboy attorney Jeffrey Hunter runs for mayor and baffles a crooked incumbent opponent, in "Enough Rope?" (Repeat.)

8:00 — Ch. 8, RAWHIDE. An accident-prone philologist (Eddie Bracken) attempts to convince Gil Favor (Eric Fleming) and his drovers that their problems with the Comanches can be solved merely by speaking their language, in "Incident of the Clown." (Repeat.)

8:00 — Ch. 5, DONNA REED SHOW. The Stone's backyard becomes loaded with trees when their son (Paul Petersen) decides to go into the nursery business and use his home for his place of business, in "It Grows On Trees." (Repeat.)

8:30 — Ch. 3, DR. KILDARE. A bereaved Claude Rains holds Dr. Kildare and Dr. Gillespie (Richard Chamberlain and Raymond Massey) responsible for his granddaughter's unexpected death, in "Why Won't Anybody Listen?" (Repeat.)

8:30 — Ch. 5, MY THREE SONS. Steve's (Fred MacMurray) hexed day starts when he gets up in the morning and gets worse when he reaches his office and runs smack into a business client, in "Didya Ever Have One of Those Days?" (Repeat.)

9:00 — Ch. 8, PERRY MASON. Raymond Burr is hired by a circus clown (Douglas Henderson) to untangle a case of bigamy and head off a threat

Probation Probe

Set for Canton Man

LISBON — A probation in-lisbon has been ordered by Judge Joel H. Sharp for John Cook, 24, of Canton, who changed his plea to guilty Wednesday to burglary of the uninhabited cabin at Guilford Lake owned by Margaret Checkan of Louisville. Cook was indicted by the recalled April grand jury and pleaded not guilty at arraignment June 15. He allegedly took fishing equipment and a clock radio from the cabin. Bond of $1,000 was continued pending the investigation by Richard Rose, chief adult probation officer. The National Park Service has camping facilities in 76 parks.

Pancakes Not Found In Restaurant

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

No doubt about it. America's passion for pancakes goes on and on.

Americans have loved griddle cake, since pioneer days, but only in recent years has the United States had restaurants devoted to serving them.

Now there's even a cook book chock full of pancake recipes (with some for waffles, fritters and omelets thrown in). It's "Pancakes Aplenty" by Ruth Ellen Church and it appeared a few years ago.

And here comes a new pancake recipe, one we haven't yet found in a pancake restaurant. It's an old-time combination of bulk pork sausage and fresh corn in a made-from-scratch batter. When we tried this recipe, we found it produced pancakes that were hearty and not overly rich.

A cook who has an electric griddle will find pancakes great summer fare for breakfast, lunch, brunch or supper. Mix up the batter, wait batter and griddle out to the porch or patio and bake the pancakes while the family gathers around.

Should you try this recipe, remember that it's best to shuck corn and cut it from its cob just before using. And always refrigerate corn as soon as you bring it home from market; at ordinary room temperature the sugar in the freshest of corn turns to starch. You don't want to lose that sweetness.

CORN AND SAUSAGE PANCAKES

1 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon black pepper, 2 eggs, separated, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 pound bulk pork sausage, cooked, 1 cup corn, cut from cobs.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and pepper. Beat egg yolks slightly; add milk and beat to combine. Stir in sausage and corn. Add sifted dry ingredients; stir just until moistened. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold in.

Drop 1/4 cup batter at a time on a hot greased griddle. When bubbles form over top, turn and brown other side. Makes 12.

PLAIN BLUEBERRY PIE

2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 3/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 quart large fresh blueberries, pastry for 2-crust pie, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, milk.

In a medium mixing bowl stir together thoroughly the tapioca, sugar and salt. Add blueberries and mix gently. Turn into pastry lined 9-inch pie plate; add blueberry mixture; dot with butter.

Top with pastry, flute and seal; cut several vents in top pastry; brush with milk. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 50 minutes or until browned. Cool enough to allow filling to set somewhat before serving.

Westville

Q. O. club was entertained at a dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. Harry Helsel of Westville Lake on her birthday. Mrs. Helsel served decorated cake and ice cream. The club sang birthday greetings. Awards in "500" went to Mrs. Lucy Javis for high score, Mrs. Paul Allison for low score and Mrs. George Heston for lucky score.

Mrs. Edward Paine returned home from Alliance City Hospital where a daughter Lori was born June 18. Mrs. Paine is the former Sharon Mapes.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osterrieder, of Sandy Hook, Ky., visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dalton of Westville Lake.

Mrs. Norman Henderson of Mt. Vernon, Ind., returned home after visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Ritchie.

M. A. Butler and Randy Falkner of Tennessee Bible College in Chattanooga, Tenn., spoke at the Westville Congregational Christian Church. The young men will attend Word of Life camp in Schroon Lake, N. Y., where they will be instructors.

Mr. and Mrs. Florian Wyss entertained their children Mr. and Mrs. Larry Davies of Alliance, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kurena.

John Lanning Reeves Jr., 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Reeves of Garden Grove, Calif., was killed in an automobile accident in New Mexico. Services were held at Westminster, Calif. May 29. Mr. and Mrs. Reeves were formerly of Westville Lake where Lanny delivered the Alliance and Salem papers.

Lime Pie Is Cool Dessert

By GAYNOR MADDUX

The cooling flavor of fresh limes is hard to beat when the thermometer goes sky high. But limes are not always in the market or else cost a little too much. That's why it is good news that there's a new Key lime pie filling on the market that turns out desserts not quite but almost as delightful as fresh limes.

This Key Lime Meringue Pie recipe is a modern version of a famous pie originated in the Florida Keys centuries ago. The original pie, food historians say, was a custard filling in a pastry shell with a lightly browned, baked meringue topping.

KEY LIME MERINGUE PIE (1 9-inch pie)

1 package Key lime flavor pie filling, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cups water, 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten, 2 egg whites, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 9-inch pie shell, baked and cooled.

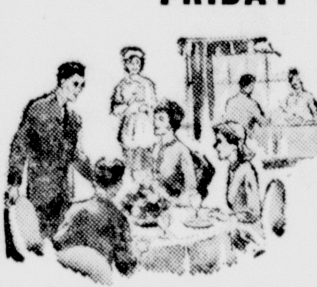

Combine Key lime flavor pie filling and 1/2 cup sugar in a saucepan. Gradually add water and egg yolks, stirring to keep mixture smooth. Cook over medium high heat stirring constantly, until mixture begins to boil. If undissolved, break flavor capsule and stir into filling. Cool slightly. Pour into baked and cooled pie shell. Beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually add and beat in the 1/4 cup sugar. Spread meringue over filling and seal well to crust. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) about 5 minutes.

the BIG inch

The ruled box above is a one-inch ad. It measures one column wide by one inch deep.

It costs daily contract advertisers only 80c.

It looks kinda lonesome by itself.

But look at it this way:

What you get when you buy a one-inch ad in the Salem News is not just a single inch of space in the paper, but one inch multiplied by 10,900 copies daily.

So you are really buying 10,900 inches, which at 168 inches per page would be some 64 full pages of printed newsprint.

That's a mighty big chunk of space for a cost of only 80c. And that price includes delivery to the reader's front doorstep.

Just imagine the cost of reaching all those Salem News Area families by postcard. It would amount to $436 just for postage.

BUT THE SALEM NEWS DOES IT FOR ONLY 80c PER INSERTION!

So you can see that a little one-inch ad is really a pretty BIG inch when it's advertising space in the Salem News. And the figures show that it's the most effective and economical way possible to let people in this area know that you have merchandise and services that they could use.

Let a Salem News representative show you how a little BIG inch can wake up sales for you.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My doctor told me our baby will be born in July between the 24th and 31st.

Last week my husband asked if the doctor could be wrong and if the baby might come AFTER July 31. That seemed like an off question, so I asked what he had in mind. He replied, "July 31 is the end of the fiscal year of my business and I hope the baby isn't late or I will lose the deduction." I felt rather badly about that remark.

This morning I had a few pains and my husband said, "Wouldn't it be wonderful if the baby was premature?" This really burned me up. He then said most women love premature births so they can avoid those last miserable weeks of pregnancy. He added, "You should be so lucky."

Please set this ignoramus straight on the workings of nature.—MRS. P. G.

Dear P.G.: The ignoramus may not know much about the workings of nature but I presume he knows his own business.

The normal tax year ends Dec. 31, but apparently he has received special permission from the Internal Revenue Service to end HIS tax year July 31.

Now about the workings of nature: A full-term baby is best—unless nature or the physician decides otherwise.

In the Army Now

Dear Ann: Three months ago my husband came home from work and told me he was going to join the Army because he hated his job. Ollie said his happiest days were in the service (before we were married) and he wanted to make the Army his career.

He suggested I take the baby and live with my mother until he could send for us. Knowing how bullheaded Ollie is, I didn't try to talk him out of it.

For the last month I've been getting letters from Ollie saying he falls in bed dead every night and he isn't as young as he used to be. He hates his sergeant and his feet are killing him. I wrote him cheerful letters in return, saying we are all well and happy, hoping to perk him up.

Yesterday Ollie wrote back, saying, "Don't tell me how well and happy you are. Tell me you are having a nervous breakdown and that you need me home. I want to get out of here." What shall I do?—MRS. C.

Dear Mrs. C.: Continue to tell Ollie how well and happy you are—plus all the other cheery tidbits you can think of. You might also tell him that since he's going to have to serve his hitch he'd jolly well better make the best of it.

Free-Loading Duo

Dear Ann: My husband and I are in our middle 50s. Our two daughters, 23 and 25, are supporting themselves—one teaches school, the other is a stenographer.

Both girls live in boarding houses, about 30 miles from here in opposite directions. They come home every Friday, bringing their dresses to be hemmed and their soiled laundry for me to wash. They leave late Sunday.

My husband and I worked hard to educate our daughters. He is a laborer and I'm a seamstress. Our income is sufficient for us but nothing is left over for extras or saving.

My question: How much are parents expected to do for their children—and for how long? These girls have many friends over and they consume more food during the weekend than we do in two weeks. Never once have they bought so much as a spool of thread or a box of soap for their laundry.

My husband says this is their home and they are entitled to come here as guests whenever they want to. What do you think?—WEARY MOM.

Dear Wary: Girls who come home every weekend with soiled laundry and dresses to be hemmed hardly could be considered guests. Your daughters are living home about one-third of the time, whether they realize it or not.

If they wish to continue they should agree to buy all the weekend groceries and do their own laundry.

Ann Landers will be glad

HEAT WAVE—One gets a new insight into the term "heat wave" as he looks at this center line squiggle its way down the Via del Tritone in Rome. The "stagging" heat melted the road surface and passing cars distorted the line.

HOLLANDAISE EGGS

6 hard-cooked eggs, ¼ cup chilled Hollandaise Sauce, 1 teaspoon minced chives, 3 tablespoons minced green pepper, lemon juice and salt to taste, salad greens and radishes.

Halve eggs lengthwise. Remove and mash yolks with Hollandaise, chives, green pepper, lemon juice and salt. Refill egg white cavities with egg-yolk mixture, ruffle with fork tines. Serve on salad greens with radishes.

STUFFED VEAL

¼ cup butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, 3 cups soft bread crumbs, ½ cup finely diced celery, ½ cup raisins, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup water, 2 ½ pounds boned breast of veal, with pocket.

Melt butter, add onion and cook until onion is tender but not brown. Add crumbs, celery, raisins, parsley and seasonings.

Cook and stir constantly over medium heat for about 5 minutes. Add water. Fill veal pocket with stuffing and sew or skewer together the edges. Place fat side up on a rack in an open pan. Roast in slow (325 degrees) oven for about 40 minutes per pound. Makes 6 servings.
